On the contrary, the people who live on these streets had every reason to believe that the bill would never become a law. It would be no hardship for the Commissioners to hold that portion of the road pro-tested against in abeyance. The law provided that the road should be constructed outside of the city proper before work was commenced in the city, so that the company would have ample opportunity to get relief from Congress.

The act of March 3, 1891 provides that the full amount of judgments against the Washington and Georgetown and Metropolitan railroads by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia shall be paid within eighteen months after the passage of the act, and that upon failure to pay said amounts the charters shall become forfeited.

It will be recalled that these judgments were reversed by the United States Supreme Court on the ground that payment was barred by the operation of the statute of limitations.

Some time after the act passed the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company paid the amount of the judgment with interest and costs in full. The Metropolitan Railroad Company, however, has not vet complied with the pany, however, has not yet complied with the provisions of the act.

Today the Commissioners received a letter from Senator Gorman, who is chairman of the committee to investigate incorporated com-panies in the District, asking for information on the subject and inquiring what action if any has been taken by the Commissioners to enforce the provision of the act referred to. Attorney Thomas will look into the matter.

Both teams will have a hard game today and then the players will some time been attending Pennington Semirest until they appear on the grounds of the nary, New Jersey, will in a short time start National Base Ball Park at noon on Thursday. Owing to the unestisfactory showing of the C. A. C. on Saturday speculation is rife as to which team will be the victors. The Columbias will fight as for their lives and the contest will fight as for their lives and the contest should equal in interest and excitement that between Yale and Princeton. At present public favor leans toward the Georgetowns and odds of 7 to 5 are offered on their winning the game.

Wherever one goes foot ball is the topic of conversation, and the match will undoubtedly be the biggest athletic event over held in the District. The Georgetown men are confident of winning, while the C. A. C. are just as sure that the red and blue will wave triumphantly over the blue and gray on the 24th. over the blue and gray on the 24th.

over the blue and gray on the 24th.

Capt. Carmody, who has just recovered from the effects of an injury received in a practice game, is again on the field, and his presence lends vim and snap to the playing.

There is great excitement among the Georgetown students, and they have plenty of money to place on their representatives of brawn and muscle. Already, in anticipation of the time when the two teams will "line up," the boys are yelling themselves hoarse. The college cheers can be heard at any time during the recreation hours. Some have written somes in which hours. Some have written songs in which Tommy Dowd, Peter Cummerford, Pat O'Donnell and others of the players are suppose be heroes. One of them is: "Up 'Blue and Gray, for Dowd is coming, Pete is on the way, Pat O'Donnell's in the center; We must win the day.'

The result can only be decided after a great oot ball struggle.

ODD FELLOWS' VISITATION.

Naomi Lodge of the Rebekah Degree Branch Entertains the Grand Officers.

The second visitation of the present series to the Rebekah degree branch by the Grand Lodge officers of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows occurred last evening, being the occasion of the regularly announced visit to Naomi Lodge, No. 1. The officials having been formally introduced the grand master made a few remarks touching the occasion, to which the noble grand responded and extended in behalf of the lodge a cordial welcome. A brief recess followed, in which the visitors and visited freely exchanged social and fraternal greetings. The work of the degree was then exemplified, the result of which showed that the officers continued to maintain their large and lodged in Jall. Having been indicated by the grand jury now in session, it is likely he will have a speedy trial. He is a young man of genteel appearance and good manners and had been here for several days previous to leaving with the horse and bugge. He is said to be a very several days previous to leaving the continued to standard of proficiency. The grand secretary and grand treasurer reported the books and accounts properly kept and that the finances were in a healthy condition. Addresses being the next feature remarks were made by Grand Master Crawshaw, Grand Representatives Allan and Stier, Grand Conductor Jones, Brothers Clapp, Nicholson and McLean and Sisters Sanderson, Thomas, Martin, Roberts, Nicholson, Allan and Daniels of this jurisdiction and sisters Johnson and Stewart of Massachusetts.

The exercises having been concluded the Grand Lodge officers were about to vacate their places and depart, when Noble Grand Roberts of Naomi announced there was one remaining item to be attended to, and in a very neat and well-timed address presented to Grand Master Crawshaw, for his wife, a handsome bouquet of choicest roses, the gift of the lodge. He re-sponded in appropriate words and thanks to the fair donors.

The surprise was a complete one, such as the Naomites are in the habit of doing with their friends. The Rebekah branch of the order is in a flourishing condition in this jurisdiction in a flourishing condition in this jurisdiction and the order generally. Last year there were added to this branch in the order at large 12,021 sisters and 10,091 brothers. The present strength in the Rebekah lodges is 81,735 sisters and 73,280 brothers. Tonight Washington Lodge, No. 6, will be visited and tomorrow evening Ruth (Rebekah degree) Lodge, No. 2, which will conclude the visitations for this week.

In the case of Thomas Mills, mulatto, convicted in the circuit court of this county of felonious assault on an imbecile girl of Frederick city, the court of appeals of Maryland, before whom the case was carried, has confirmed the decision of the lower court. The ground of appeal to the court of last resort was that the while backing into a siding here to let the congrand jury which found the indictment was not drawn in conformity to law. It is expected that the prisoner, who has been confined in jail here since his conviction, will be sentenced during the present week.

A decision in the case of James Bond, colored, convicted of murder in the first degree by outraging and killing Margaret Cephas near Unity some months ago, and for which a new trial had been asked, will probably be given by the circuit court in a few days. An impression prevails in the community that a new trial will be denied and that Bond will have to suffer the extreme penalty of the law.
